The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper with a long story about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him of how she should have skipped school that afternoon and went round the bend and saw two boys that his cousin is still aware of but did not think about his adventures. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival each are sent to wash windows and eventually chase the newcomer all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiterwash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of metal. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.

Tom’s half-brother, Sid, is also present. Tom has sworn the boy to secrecy about his escapades.
