The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects cautiously on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. As Tom enters the door, he can hear his father 快乐的 on the staircase. He sneaks into the room and hears the usual family squabble. “It’s all your fault, Tom!” his father is saying. Tom has never been so nervous in his life.

Tom goes out of the house in a state of nervous breakdown. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, he meets Huckleberry Finn and is invited to his house. Tom accepts and eventually falls in love with his hostess.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of mule. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tabor.

Tom comes home at supper and tells his aunt about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Ida updates Tom’s mother on all that has happened. Tom’s brother, Sid, is ditched from school that afternoon and sent over to Tom’s house. He tells Tom that his father is away and will be home the next day. Tom and Aunt Ida are surprised and say they need to let Tom’s mother know. Tom’s brother’s presence allows Tom to avoid work for a bit longer.

Tom goes out of the house to meet his friend, Huck Finn. While they are walking, Huck Finn tells Tom about the markings on the markers and eventually his nose comes all the way home.
