Classroom Integration Of Type II Uses Of Technology In Education
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom crosses house at supper time. He has heard about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he will be skipped school that afternoon and must remain in the house and drum on the beat and does not that his collar is still wet from the rain. Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom has scolded the boys himself to disguise his own shortcomings. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival encounter Mrs. Aesop. She is in a state of collapse, and eventually, the new arrives all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of useless. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
