The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyerr. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects angrily on Tom's mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime and is quite pleased with himself. He has brought a fish and a bag of apples from the market. His mother is not pleased and soon gives him a thrashing. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets Huckleberry Finn and together they decide to run away from home.

Tom and Huckleberry Finn are two mischievous boys who live across the street from each other. They are known for their pranks and adventures. One evening, Tom returns home to find Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of trinket. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labors.
