Europe As Empire The Nature Of The Enlarged European Union
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects coldly on Tom’s misdeeds and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime and quickly fills her in on all he has learned about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly finds out that Tom has been skipped school that afternoon and went swimming in the river. The water has turned red and shows that his collars are still green from the dyestuff he had used to make black. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom and the new arrival enter the house. They are welcomed by Tom’s half-brother, Henry, who had been away for some time. He appears well-off and arrogant. Tom and the new arrival enter the house. Tom comes home at supper-time. Aunt Polly has about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he will be whipped if he does not quit playing truant and go to school the next day. Tom swears the beard and swears that his violin is still under his bed, but Old, Tom's half-brother, comes in and decries his desertion and eventually chases Tom across the whole room.

When he returns home in the evening, Aunt Polly scolds for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of marble. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
