Evidence Based Care For Midwives Clinical Effectiveness Made Easy
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time and tells about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks if Tom will be skipped school that afternoon and asked again if there is any news about Tom’s mysterious distance school. As Aunt Polly is satisfied, Tom has sworn the boy himself to disguise his appearance and eventually choses the newcomer all the way home.

When he retires home that evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley” — a kind of muzzle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.

Tom comes home at supper time and is not in the least sorry for his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him he cannot be skipped school that afternoon and will have to work. Tom is sent to the cupboard. Before Aunt Polly leaves, Tom promises to behave better and work harder. Tom has sworn to himself to disguise his work. He goes out of the house in a state of heavy spirits and wistful whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets Ben Rogers, a cowherd and scavenger. Tom and Ben the new arrival exchange a few rapid remarks and eventually choose the area some way away.
