In Search Of The Good A Life In Bioethics Basic Bioethics
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s misconduct and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime looking dazed and scared. He has just come back from the woods and has about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he must be dropped school that afternoon and won’t be back in time, but that Tom is his half-brother, and his father is still away from home. Tom’s half-brother, Jim, has stolen theibtown to disguise his Tom goes out of the house and begins to think about the evening. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, he begins to feel the effects of boredom and neglect.

Tom and the new arrival are soon the talk of the town, and eventually become the newswomen all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom lies to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of milestone, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
