Law Science Liberalism And The American Way Of Warfare The Quest For Humanity In Conflict
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime and is dressed in clothes that he has just bought about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly finds out that Tom has skipped school that afternoon and gone down to the mill, where he has been working. Aunt Polly is satisfied, but Sadie, Tom’s half-sister, is not. Aunt Polly is the eldest daughter and is responsible for the household. Tom has sworn to himself to disgrace his aunt and to make her regret her kindness.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to do some whitewashing. Tom is taken to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of metal pin which he almost always gets, but Aunt Polly appears and closes him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects angrily on Tom's recklessness and how she let him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper and asks if she will tell him what he has done about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he had been skipped school that afternoon and went to St. Petersburg, a neighboring town. The town was well known for its brandy and beer dens, and Tom's father had warned him not to go there.

The next day, Tom and a new arrival are sent to wash clothes at the laundromat and eventually choose the newlyweds all the way home.
