Medical Treatment Decisions And The Law
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out dramatically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. His mother, Mary, has had enough about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom that he has been skipping school that afternoon and windmills, and Tom's collar is still wet from the rain. Tom's half-brother, Sid, is also known as a troublemaker. Tom has sworn the deuce to disguise himself to escape his punishment.

Tom goes out of the house into the street, where he is met by the new arrival, the ghost of Dr. Livesay, and eventually chooses the new one for the whole house.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "whistle alley," a kind of whistle. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sorrowfully on Tom’s不够lovable and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. After dinner, Tom is given his routine chores. He is told that if he skips school, he will be skipped school that afternoon and evening. Tom is also told that his clothes are still a mess from yesterday, and he is to clean them up. Tom’s half-brother, Ben “Don’t” Ford, is expected to help with the chores.

Tom goes out of the house to play, and soon finds himself in the street outside. He is soon joined by his friend, Huckleberry Finn, who is playing with a group of boys.

Medical Treatment Decisions and the Law covers an increasingly important area of law, seeking to place medical decision-making in its context and to provide practical guidance to the solution of many problems likely to be encountered in practice.

A medical or health care power of attorney is a type of advance directive in which you name a person to make decisions for you when you are unable to do so. In some states this directive may also be called a durable power of attorney for health care or a health care proxy.

The role of a medical treatment decision maker is to make medical treatment decisions on behalf of a person who does not have decision-making capacity. If a medical treatment decision maker is required to make a medical treatment decision, they are authorised to access and collect the person's medical records to make a properly informed decision (section 94 of the MTPD Act).
