Point Of Care Ultrasound Fundamentals Principles Devices And Patient Safety
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects on Tom's naughtiness and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper to find his mother, Mrs. Sawyer, in a terrible state. She has just heard that Tom has been skipped school that afternoon and went to the town hall and saw her that his collar is still awry from the day before. Tom is told to wash his hands, and Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house into the streets of St. Petersburg. Tom has a new arrival: a white donkey. The donkey is Tom's new companion and eventually becomes the new key to the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whiterush the fence. Tom sees by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a "white alley," a kind of saddle. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
