The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with ink, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. He is full of new adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom that he should be skipped school that afternoon and go to work. Tom gives a sad laugh and shows her that his collar is still awry from the fence. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house in a sullen mood. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom meets Mr. Jack Thatcher, a rich and important man. Tom and the new arrival exchange words, and eventually, Tom agrees to be a page for Mr. Thatcher.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom passes by, and Aunt Polly asks him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “trout alkal.“ Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chased him off, leaving Tom alone with his task.
