The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects musingly on Tom’s escapades and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime and his hands are still smeared with jam. He tells his mother about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks Tom about school. She wants to know if he has been skipping school that afternoon and what mischief he and his friends have been up to. Tom denies everything and Aunt Polly is satisfied. However, she knows better. Tom has superintended the mischief and eventually chased the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of money. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
