The novel opens with Aunt Polly scouring the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, "Look behind you!" and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom's misbehavior and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. When asked how his day was, he says nothing. Daring supper, Aunt Polly asks him how it went. Tom lies about his adventures. At dinner, Aunt Polly quotes the Bible and asks Tom if he can be skipped school that afternoon. Tom lies about his mistakes and how he will feel better in the morning. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

In the morning, Tom and the new arrival arrive home. Tom is accidentally bit by a dog. Aunt Polly, thundering and agitated, chases the new arrivals all the way home.

When Tom returns home in the evening, Aunt Polly finds Tom waiting for her. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to wash the face of the well. In the street, Tom meets Joe Harper who asks Tom to help him to get Tom to do some of the washing. Tom offers to help in return for a "white alley," a kind of sulphate. Aunt Polly agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his labor.
