The Healthy Pc Preventive Care Home Remedies And Green Computing 2nd Edition
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects wistfully on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper. He looks pale and sad. “I’ve been very good,” he says. There is a tear in his eye. Aunt Polly is satisfied. She asks Tom how he has been, and he tells her about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly talks about Tom’s good behavior and how much she misses him at school. She is surprised to hear that Tom has been skipping school that afternoon and even worse, that his clothes are still on from breakfast.

Tom goes out of the house to play. He sees a group of the boys gathered and eventually chases the newcomers all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly wakes Tom and orders him to whitewash the fence. Tom is sent by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of marble. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.

Tom returns home at supper, dusty and dirty, from another of his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells him that he will be skipped school that afternoon and sent to fetch a hammer for the farm work. Tom’s heart sinks. But still, Tom’s half-brother Sid is worse off. Aunt Polly appears at the door. She has a shock for Tom. Tom has outwitted the shrewd Aunt Polly and run away to a tavern in the city. Aunt Polly is satisfied.

Tom goes out of the house in the dusk, wondering what to do next. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom comes across a group of boys who talk of a new arrival in town, a bankrupt and arrogant. Tom and the new arrival, Injun Joe, become fast friends. Tom naturally chases the newcomer all the way home.
