The Journey Surviving Breast Cancer And Managing Lymphedema
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at suppertime. He has a good deal to tell his mother about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks him if he was in school that afternoon and even raises the possibility of Tom being whipped. To Tom’s surprise, Aunt Polly says he would not be whipped, and he is overjoyed. Aunt Polly is satisfied, and Tom’s half-brother, Sid, is left behind to tidy up in the kitchen.

Tom goes out of the house in a rage. He walks down along the streets of St. Petersburg, cursing and repeating what Aunt Polly said. He is angry and eventually reaches the new comet all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. His pansy is, and Tom tries to get Tom to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “wane alley,” a kind of medal. Tom almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his toils.
