The Nature Principle Human Restoration And The End Of Nature
Deficit Disorder 1st First Edition By Louv Richard 2011
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects softly on Tom’s mischievous and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time. Tom has been at school all day and his hands and face are dirty. His clothes are wrinkled and ragged. Tom is about to be whipped, but Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom has earned the right to be punished. When Tom is punished, he feels like a hero.

Tom and the new arrival enjoy each other’s company and eventually become close friends.

When Tom returns home in the evening, Aunt Polly waits for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Tom is happy, and Aunt Polly gives him a “white alley,” a kind of mixture. Tom agrees and starts to whitewash the fence.
