The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s misbehavior and how she let him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time, dirtied and dispirited from the afternoon’s escapades. Doling out the expected punishment, Aunt Polly is satisfied, but San, Tom’s half-brother, has his own plans for Tom’s well-being. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom and the new arrival encounter a deserted house, which Tom decides to explore. The house is occupied by two black-eyed characters named Mark Twain and Huckleberry Finn. Tom soon discovers the newsmen’s secrets, including how to catch shad, and eventually chases the newsmen all the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “shoe alley;” a kind of snuff. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
